Note on Park Road/ Pearl Terrace.

1888 Slater's Directory lists 11 to 31 Park Road, no mention of Pearl Terrace.

1891 Census lists 11 to 31 Pearl Terr, no mention of Park Road. Next entry is Lower Redisher and previous entry to no 11 is Bolton Road.

After 1911 back to Park Road.

William Rooney is listed living in 1888 at 13 Park Road and in 1891 at 13 Pearl Terrace.

Mally Bullock is listed living in 1888 at 17 Park Road and in 1891 Molly Bullock is at 17 Pearl Terrace. Molly is a spelling mistake as I checked her Marriage Certificate, its Mally and cross referenced the birth certificates of her children.

Frank Scott is listed living in 1920 at 21 Pearl Terrace and in 1939 at 13 Park Road.

Henry Ratcliffe is listed living in 1888 at 23 Park Road and in 1891 at 23 Pearl Terrace.

So if anybody has any other info that disproves or confirms my research please let me know.

13-21 Pot Green

Site of Workhouse. For more information - www.workhouses.org.uk/Bury/

Bury's workhouse, also known as the Redvales workhouse, was erected in 1775. Township workhouses also operated on Blackburn Street at Radcliffe, on Bury Old Road to the west of Heywood, on Pot Green (where house numbers 13-20 now stand) at Holcombe Brook in Tottington Lower End, and at Elton.

The Bury Poor Law Union was formally declared on 8th February 1837. Its operation was overseen by an elected Board of Guardians, 25 in number, representing its 12 constituent parishes and townships as listed below (figures in brackets indicate numbers of Guardians if more than one):

Lancashire: Ainsworth, Ashworth, Birtle-cum-Bamford, Bury (5), Elton (2), Heap (3), Hopwood, Pilkington (3), Pilsworth, Radcliffe (2), Tottington Lower End (3), Walmersley (2).

Paupers who died in a workhouse whose bodies were not claimed by family or friends were usually buried in a local nearby churchyard in an unmarked grave.

All the burials and baptisms below stated "Abode: Workhouse". I am presuming that means, for most of them, the one at Pot Green.
